

Attention Middle School Students and Parents

The Lake Braddock Middle School After-School Program will begin in early October for seventh and eighth grade students. The after-school program is provided at NO COST to parents with resources allocated by the Lake Braddock PTSA, the School Board, and the Board of Supervisors. A variety of activities are available every day after school; students may participate as frequently as they wish. Students who participate will be released at 4:10pm (3:15pm on Mondays) to ride the late buses home on the days that they are available (Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays). On the days on which late buses are not available (currently Tuesdays and Fridays), parents will need to pick up their children from school or make other arrangements. Daily snacks will be provided and supervision is provided by teachers, adult volunteers and upper-class student volunteers.

If your student is interested in participating or you are willing to volunteer your time to help the program, please indicate the activities that would interest you or your child. There is no guarantee that all of the below activities will be offered in October. Our ability to offer these classes is subject to interest of students, and the availability of volunteers and others to lead and assist with the classes. You will be contacted later in the month regarding the final schedule of activities.
